LONDON, GREATER LONDON, UK, April 24, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The global temperature monitoring devices market is expected to grow from $2.67 billion in 2019 to about $26.7 billion in 2020 due to a massive increase in demand for such devices for constant temperature monitoring of COVID-19 patients. The market is expected to stabilize and reach $3.7 billion at a CAGR of 8.2% through 2023. The prevalence of chronic and infectious diseases is expected to propel the market. However, the high cost of advanced temperature monitoring devices may hinder the growth of the temperature monitoring devices market.

The temperature monitoring devices market consists of sales of temperature monitoring devices and related services which are used to measure the temperature of a person or patient's body. The market consists of revenue generated by the companies manufacturing temperature monitoring devices by the sales of these products.
