

Introducing the Pavotube II 6C RGBWW 10" LED Tube from Nanlite

A go-anywhere, travel-friendly, studio quality light to bring your brilliance to life wherever you choose.

WHITE PLAINS, NY, USA, April 29, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Nanlite PavoTube II 6C RGBWW LED Tube is an amazingly portable versatile lighting fixture that features 0 to 100% dimming with maximum illumination of 520 lumens (183Lux @ 1m) at 5600K, as well as a full spectrum RGB and pre-programmed special lighting effects.

Studio Quality with a Love for Road Trips

With adjustable color temperature from 7500-2700K with green to magenta adjustment, a CRI of 98, and a TLCI of 95, the PavoTube II 6C packs studio-quality lighting into a go-anywhere, travel-friendly package. It also features a choice of over 360 static light colors on the RGB spectrum and can cycle through the entire spectrum at a speed of your choice.

"I have received one request from our customers many times more than any other: 'When will NanLite have a smaller more portable version of the PavoTube?' The PavoTube II 6c delivers..."

Wayne Schulman

Built-In Battery

Powered by an internal Li-ion battery, the PavoTube II 6C can run for 65 minutes at full brightness and can be charged by any USB-C source, including power banks for added run time.

Wonderfully Compact

Small enough to fit in any gear bag, the PavoTube II 6C is compatible with most T12 diameter accessories and features two 1/4 20" receivers as well as powerful magnets for mounting nearly anywhere.

Pre-programmed Lighting Effects

With fifteen pre-programmed special effects in a simple-to-master menu system, the PavoTube II 6C makes it easy to imitate lighting scenarios that can otherwise be tricky to recreate. At the touch of a button, you can simulate the lighting effects of an emergency services vehicle (cop car), flame (candlelight), lightning storm, an SOS signal, an explosion, welding, camera flashes, and more.

"Over the past year, I have received one request from our customers many times more than any other: 'When will NanLite have a smaller more portable version of the PavoTube?' The PavoTube II 6c delivers in more ways than I could have expected. The design and the features are on point. I think that the PavoTube II 6c will find its way into an extraordinary number of applications."

- Wayne Schulman, Nanlite Vice President of Sales at MAC Group
