Included in the Hamilton Heritage Collection of Great Moments in History are recordings of dramatizations by actors portraying “Alexander Hamilton, Thomas

Jefferson, Patrick Henry and Abraham Lincoln that transports listeners young and old back to a period between 1776 and 1865 when the Founding Fathers delivered speeches like: “The Declaration of Independence”, “The Preamble of the Constitution”, “Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death”, and “The Gettysburg Address”.

The collection also contains recordings of patriotic music played by the Sounds of 76 Continental Army Band including “Yankee Doodle” a song that is said to have been played when Lord Cornwallis surrendered to Gen. George Washington at Yorktown to end the war of independence, the “Battle Hymn of the Republic”, “This Land is Your Land”, “America the Beautiful”, “Dixie”, “God Bless America” and others with historical facts and narrations of when, why and who wrote these speeches and songs.

Recently Governor Ron DeSantis of Florida signed a mandate that said that no high school senior would graduate without passing a Civics course in school. At the same time, the Sounds of 76 Company Music, decided to release the “Hamilton Heritage Collection of Great Moments in History - Special School Edition to make learning easier for Florida students.
