24/7 Security by Kangaroo

During the current crisis, many businesses have been forced to close their doors, leaving their retail stores, offices, and restaurants empty and at risk of invasion without a security system.

Kangaroo and Maximus Yaney want to help these businesses stay secure and stay afloat.

On behalf of the entire team here at Kangaroo, we'd like to offer small business owners some support during these trying times.”

Designed for easy self-installation, the Kangaroo security system can be controlled and monitored through a smartphone from anywhere. It's simple to set up, efficient, and easy to use. After three months, the business can choose to elongate service or return the kit. Kangaroo will cover both outbound and return shipping.

Maximus Yaney, Co-Founder and CEO of Kangaroo, explained the inspiration behind this initiative, "As an NYC-based tech startup, we are not far removed from the days when the impact of COVID-19 would have been insurmountable. So on behalf of the entire team here at Kangaroo, we'd like to offer small business owners some support during these trying times. This small but hopefully meaningful gesture is entirely consistent with our mission to make security accessible to everyone. Thanks for making our communities great, and here's to getting through this together."

What's included?

1 Privacy Camera (indoor security camera): A privacy security camera with 1080 HD video to keep your business safe. Small footprint, huge impact.

2 Motion + Entry Sensors: When triggered by movement, the sensors immediately send an alert to your smartphone.

1 Siren + Keypad Unit: Stay safe with a secure pin and an audible alarm.

1 Yard Sign + Window Decals: Let people know you're armed from afar.

Kangaroo Complete service with Professional Monitoring: We'll keep an eye on your business when you're not around.
