The Business Research Company's Latest Report On Organic Poultry Market Global Report 2020-30: Covid 19 Growth And Change

LONDON, GREATER LONDON, UK, May 13, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The global organic poultry market is expected to grow from $7.5 billion in 2019 and to $7.7 billion in 2020 at a growth rate of 1.91%. The slow growth in 2020 is mainly due to the economic slowdown across countries owing to the COVID-19 outbreak and the measures to contain it. The market is then expected to grow and reach $9.9 billion in 2023 at a rate of about 8.74%. With an increase in consumer awareness in organic food, there is a developing potential that would drive the growth of organic poultry market. However, high cost to the consumer is one of the reasons for organic poultry's differential demand.

The organic poultry market consists of organic poultry products and related services used to raise poultry birds. Organic poultry birds such as boiler, organic layer hens are fed organic feed or non-synthetic diets and are raised in an open environment protected from climatic extremities. Organic poultry is consumed in various food processing units, restaurants, eateries, animal compounds, and households. Organic poultry does not involve the use of antibiotics, hormones and feed made from other animal parts.
