About the film:

COVID-19 has shut down the world as we used to know it. How does a pangolin in a wet market in Asia have the power to wreak such havoc on our lives and what can be done to prevent future outbreaks?

Breaking Their Silence: Women on the Frontline of the Poaching War shines a bright light on the illegal wildlife trade through the eyes of the courageous women and men fighting on the frontlines of this mostly silent war against our planet.

Never before has a film been so timely to shed light on this unfolding tragedy. An ultimately uplifting film that explains, at least in part, how we find ourselves in the midst of a global economic melt down and self quarantining.
