platform capabilities – a one stop shop for solving miscellaneous operational issues, for us as well as our clients,” said Mircea-Victor Voiteanu CGF Country Manager, Romania.

CGF’s ability to drive operational excellence along with full implementation of IT automation and integration solutions is another reason why Qore Technologies has awarded them with the Platinum Implementation Partnership level.

“CGF has been instrumental in executing best IT practices for business process orchestration, using our solution to deliver process automation, transaction safety, high levels of security, compliance and IT/OT integration in service of their customer’s digital transformation efforts. We are extremely proud of the work of their team and their dedication and commitment to passing all Qorus certification levels. The Platinum Implementation Partner status is yet another validation point of their efforts and we couldn’t be happier to welcome CGF to our Partner Enterprise Eco system with partner-led innovation and service support,” said David Nichols, CEO of Qore Technologies.

The collaboration between CGF and Qore Technologies highlights what can be achieved with the right mindset and technology in place to achieve common goals and leading to a shared solution for one of the world’s biggest crises. The challenge that COVID-19 brought to global businesses is how to build the new business models and create positive customer experiences for a post-COVID world. Utilizing sophisticated technology to reduce costs and increase operational efficiency is now the most essential element, and technology partnerships targeting this are likely to have a lasting impact and become common practice in addressing enterprise segment business needs.

In a closing remark, Mr. Nichols mentioned: “The current pandemic requires an “all hands on deck” approach – meaning: the best ideas, the most competent people and non-stop efforts to blunt the pandemic’s impact to our lives and livelihoods. This is why strategic partnerships are now more important than ever, to bring out the best in people and to highlight the spirit of support and innovation. Many companies have gone to great lengths to support the emergency response by forming synergies and combining various ideas. We are smarter and more efficient together.”
