EZ Weed is run by Managing Partner, Lauren Smee and backed by retired NFL Linebacker-turned-venture-capitalist, Lamarr Houston. Mr. Houston, who played professionally for the Oakland Raiders and Chicago Bears, recently visited American Green's AGM facility in Gastonia, NC. According to AGM Division Head, Lindel Creed, "It was obvious to me from the minute they both arrived at the AGM facility, that both Ms. Smee and Mr. Houston knew exactly which machine features they required for their venture and, by the time they left the facility, both were convinced that American Green could provide them."

EZ WEED expects to purchase and supply the AGM Dispensing Vending Machines following their up-and-coming EZ Weed national launch and have already begun securing their location agreements with some of the top dispensaries in the US. According to Ms. Smee, "Our partnership with American Green is vital in reaching our goal of becoming the first national and mainstream marijuana vending machine provider and service. The automation, humanless sales method, and intelligent vending capabilities of the AGM will allow us to scale for high growth."

EZ WEED was founded in January 2020. The company came to fruition organically through a love of cannabis and Ms. Smee's extensive knowledge in launching startups -- with a new twist and groundbreaking sales method in the cannabis industry. The average sales process in a dispensary can be anywhere from 15-45 minutes. With EZ WEED, the entire process, even as a first-time user, is on average 3 to 5 minutes.

Besides the state-of-the-art machines, EZ WEED also provides its dispensary partners with "white glove" customer service as well as completely customizable digital marketing for each American Green AGM vending machine it provides. We do all the work pertaining to custom menus, product display, machine maintenance and a dedicated account manager that remotely keeps track of machine sales and inventory.

According to EZ Weed, serving cannabis users in an efficient manner has proven to be a challenge on a national level. With forward-thinking ideas and the backing of the venture capital firm, League Ventures, EZ <https://ezweed247.com/WEED> stands ready to enhance the sales process for new and seasoned cannabis users all across America.
