

CBD Hemp Experts Announces the Launch of Bulk Hemp-Derived CBG and CBN

Through proprietary extraction methods, CBD Hemp Experts has isolated the rare cannabinoids Cannabigerol (CBG) and Cannabinol (CBN) for bulk purchases.

JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA, USA, May 28, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- CBD Hemp Experts is proud to announce their exclusive release of bulk Cannabigerol (CBG) and Cannabinol (CBN) in a variety of options.

CBG is gaining popularity due to its incredible benefits. Other cannabinoids, such as THC, CBD, CBN and CBC, are synthesized from CBG, which is why it's often referred to as the "mother" or "stem cell" of cannabinoids. Because its exclusive nature, very few manufacturers are even attempting to produce this cannabinoid. CBG is a great antioxidant and is known to have antibacterial properties that make it great for helping support a healthy immune system.

Cannabinol (CBN) is a cannabinoid found in mature hemp plants. It is found in very low concentrations in hemp plants and considered to be very rare. CBN is a byproduct of cannabinolic acid (CBN-a) which in turn is released by the oxidation of tetrahydrocannabinolic acid (THC-a). Although it is a byproduct of THC oxidation, CBN extracts from industrial registered hemp is compliant and gaining popularity. Preliminary research is showing there are many potential benefits of using CBN.

Jim Fulford, Co-Founder of CBD Hemp Experts, said "I am excited about the benefits consumers will see when they add CBN and CBG into their self-health care routine. It is hard to deny the power of CBD, and now we are offering two other amazing cannabinoids that will emphasize the real benefits that hemp-derived products have to offer our physical and mental health."

The bulk selections offered are CBN Distillate (Non-Detectable THC), CBG Distillate (Non-Detectable THC) and CBG Isolate (Non-Detectable THC). Each form being great to use for products such as oils, tinctures, creams, gels, capsules, sprays, topicals, salves, edibles, shampoo, lotion, soap and more.

All of CBD Hemp Experts CBD, CBG and CBN are USA grown, premium grade, Non-GMO, gluten free, natural, Industrial Hemp registered, Farm Bill Compliant and third-party tested for consumers so they can feel confident in the products they are purchasing.
