The team at Watson Buys will also provide resources to help with the fundraising, including utilizing their online networking and marketing department. "We have a network of roughly 15,000 clients we communicate with regularly. It would be amazing if we could get each of them to make a small donation. We will see – that's my job for the next couple months and I am thrilled to take on the Challenge" continued Shaun.

The Ride-A-Thon will be held at Battle Mountain High School, Edwards, Colorado, in the western car park in August 2020. The exact time and date will be released closer to the time. This will enable the team to plan depending on the current conditions and restrictions surrounding COVID-19. The team will raise money so local athletes can continue to compete in the multitude of events that are available to them. These events include skiing, bowling, biking, and swimming to name a few.

Sponsorship Opportunities.

There are 3 levels of corporate sponsorship available. Gold (1 total), Silver (2 total), and Bronze (up to 20). Also, Individuals may also donate at any amount they choose, online at watsonbuys.com/sponsor-now.

Watson Buys has filled one of two silver sponsor spots. "There are several large corporations we are having talks with regarding the Gold level title sponsorship. I believe the second silver-level sponsor has been found, and we have several bronze sponsors on board too. This really exciting for us" said Sornie, SEO and Technologies Chief Officer at Watson Buys.
