

GT RADIAL ADVENTURO HT TIRE INTRODUCED FOR PICKUPS and SUVs

The new GT Radial Adventuro HT showcases American engineering and high quality American manufacturing.

RANCHO CUCAMONGA, CA, USA, June 8, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The GT Radial Adventuro HT highway all-season tire is being introduced to provide long mileage and a smooth, quiet ride for North American SUV and pickup truck owners.

Several of the line's most popular sizes are manufactured at the company's plant in Richburg, SC. The new M+S rated tire is backed with a 60,000-mile limited tread wear warranty and a 30-Day Test Drive satisfaction guarantee for the consumer.

A total of 32 sizes are currently available in 15- to 20-inch rim diameters. Sizes range from 50 to 85 aspect ratios and section widths from 215 to 275 with R, S, T, H and V speed ratings. Additional size extensions are already under development.

"The new Adventuro HT showcases American engineering by our US R&D Center and high quality American manufacturing from our plant in South Carolina," said Thomas Okihisa, director of marketing for Giti Tire USA. "The combination of long tread life, a smooth ride and dependable traction will result in many satisfied customers for GT Radial dealers."

Features and benefits include:

- Dual sidewall design gives two choices for the perfect look.
- Bull depth wave sipes provide additional biting edges for improved wet and snow traction.
- Chamfered tread edges increase water displacement to reduce hydroplaning risk.
- Continuous center rib improves braking performance and stability at highway speeds.

New GT Radial Tire -- Made in America

- Harmonically optimized pitch sequencing reduces road noise generation.
