Editor-in-Chief Ellen Zavian

There's something for everyone in these pages, including expertly written case analyses and insightful interviews.”

Editor-in-Chief Ellen Zavian

“We're very proud of this issue,” said Editor-in-Chief Ellen Zavian, an Adjunct Professor at George Washington University and Professorial Lecturer in Sports Law at George Washington Law School. “There's something for everyone in these pages, including an expertly written case analysis about Solid Oak Sketches, LLC v. 2K Games, Inc. from Skadden attorney Hannah M. Marek as well as an insightful interview of Matthew M. Martino, a partner at the firm.”

Also standing out in the latest issue is the profile of United Talent Agency's Ophir Lupu, who left Creative Artists Agency and built one of the industry's leading practices for his new employer.

Managing Editor Holt Hackney noted that subscriptions to ESL, which can be obtained on a complimentary basis at this link, has exploded because of COVID - 19, which has fueled the interest in electronic sports.

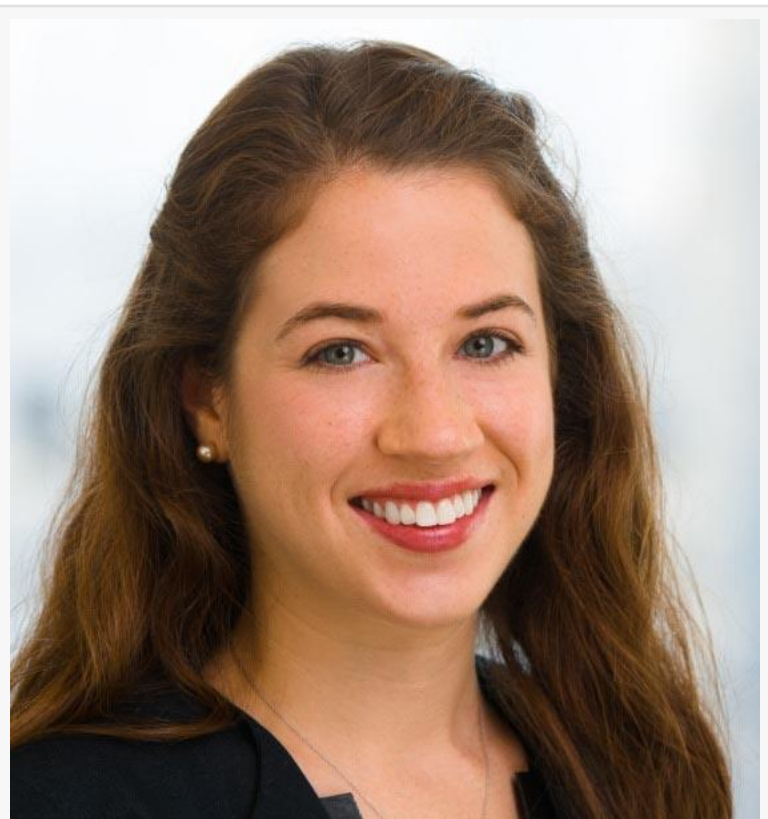

"We look forward to reporting on how the industry is on the precipice of monstrous growth, and the myriad of legal issues that will accompany that growth," said Hackney.

Each issue of ESL relies heavily on the editorial guidance of Zavian as well as Skadden partners Karen Hoffman Lent and Anthony J. Dreyer, who are co-heads of the firm's sports practice, a sports and antitrust partner Matthew M. Martino.
