

United Cities Productions launches series to investigate influences painting untrue pictures of the Black community

United Cities Productions announced that it has launched a video series to investigate influences that are painting untrue pictures of the Black community.

TAMPA, FL, USA, June 12, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- United Cities Productions announced today

The only way to solve the problem is to have honest curiosity and open conversations with people that you trust.”

Bruce Maduri, Co-Host of Closed Minds Opened and CEO of News Talk Florida

that it has launched a new video series to investigate how outside influences are painting an untrue picture of the Black community. The series will be hosted by Bruce Maduri, CEO of News Talk Florida and Jeffrey Copeland, Tampa Bay Political Consultant, Business Leader and Concert Promoter.

Closed Minds Opened was developed to address current civil issues related to the killing of George Floyd. The series looks to remove negative connotations escalated by mainstream media and have honest, friendly, and sometimes uncomfortable conversations related to racial inequality.

Closed Minds Opened will investigate current events in the Black Community and highlight inspiring stories of individuals that overcame adversity and became successful business and community leaders.

The first episode of Closed Minds Opened can be viewed on YouTube at <https://youtu.be/fBg-TrrD7j4> or by visiting News Talk Florida at www.newsTalkFlorida.com.

“The only way to solve the problem is to have honest curiosity and open conversations with people that you trust,” said Bruce Maduri, Co-Host of Closed Minds Opened and CEO of News Talk Florida. “We will ask the hard questions, be ok being uncomfortable, and celebrate the Black culture.”
