

Tarps Now Announces Joins Fight Against COVID-19 as Response Supplier

Firm expands efforts against Coronavirus Pandemic as Validated Thomas COVID-19 Response Supplier

ST. JOSEPH, MICHIGAN, UNITED STATES, June 12, 2020

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Tarps Now® is pleased to announce it has joined Thomas for Industry in its efforts to mobilize manufacturers and fulfill demand for critical products and services fighting the COVID-19 crisis. As a validated COVID-19 Supplier, Tarps Now® is helping to mobilize and provide availability of plastic and vinyl sheeting products and materials used to protect of essential workers with protective materials and barriers that help mitigate Coronavirus transmission.

Evidencing the beneficial use of barriers in the fight against the spread of COVID-19, the Journal of the American Medical Association recently published an article detailing the many advantages of clear plastic face covers. The benefits discussed included being able to use clear plastic nearly indefinitely, easily disinfected, with protection viral portal entry in areas such as the mouth, nose and eyes, reducing immediate viral exposure by 96 percent. In addition, clear plastic shields also helped prevent wearers from touching their own faces. In short, clear plastic used as a safeguard illustrates the benefits of using clear plastics or vinyl to inhibit COVID-19 virus transmission.

By extension, Tarps Now® provides clear vinyl and other materials that help create physical barriers to virus transmission at critical points of contact. The most popular material used in the
