After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the meeting.

The workshop will be led by Karen Woolsey, a highly experienced Toastmaster and presenter, who, like many of us, has suffered through too many ineffective meetings.

This workshop will discuss how to professionally prepare, coordinate, and lead meetings – this will include in-person meetings as well as the “new Normal” online meetings that many of us are experiencing. In this workshop, Karen will also demonstrate how Zoom’s cool “Break Out Rooms” feature can be used to improve participant collaboration for online meetings.
