

Oil & Gas Virtual Summit Announces New Speakers

You will be inspired, encouraged, and receive a much needed dose of pragmatic, actionable advice

NAIROBI, KENYA, June 18, 2020

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The Oil & Gas Leadership and Success Virtual Summit is pleased to announce a new round of confirmed speakers.

With the aim of bringing together top Oil and Gas Business Experts, Industry Thought Leaders, Independents, Government, Key Stakeholders, Strategic Thinkers and Operational Leaders, the Oil & Gas Leadership and Success Virtual Summit is designed to take you on a step-by-step journey throughout the Oil and Gas Value Chain on how to deal with the current crisis, adapting to a new world order and how to succeed going forward.

In March when the world had begun to feel the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Oil & Gas Leadership and Success Virtual Summit was realised and the organisers Joe Watson Gakuo and Jodee Lourensz look forward to launching this unique platform that gives you on-demand presentations, interviews and panel discussions.

As a registered participant, you will have access to five days' worth of content with C-Suite and Senior Executive speakers and panelists covering a broad range of topics, with the objective to help you navigate the current problems being faced within the industry and gain a better understanding of how to move forward strategically.

There is no travel, no approval forms to complete, and no re-scheduling of meetings so that if you attend, you will have a week of work to catch up on.
