fully-digital conference taking place on August 18th-20th beginning at 1PM EST each day... And Ai4 is announcing the first round of confirmed speakers to the Ai4 2020 lineup!

In total, you can expect 100+ speakers and 35 hours of content across 16 fully-digital tracks. Tracks are industry-specific, including healthcare, finance, retail, cybersecurity, telecom, automotive, and oil & energy as well as technical, including NLP, computer vision, AI research, and more.

While it's too much for any one person to experience, you'll be able to personalize your agenda to ensure you learn exactly what you want. In addition, all registered attendees will have immediate post-conference access to all presentation recordings.

The conference is free to attend for those who qualify - and even for those who don't, the registration fee is still 60% off the initial pricing.

See a few speaker highlights below. Don't miss them, and many more TBA soon!
