Ordinary grass, versus more drought tolerant Pearl's grass needs less mowing and water flowerbeds or vegetable gardens.

Pearl's recommends these simple, optional best management practices to improve this or any grass:

- 1) Test the soil to make sure it is between 6.0 and 7.0 in pH. Use a little pellet lime (40#/ 1,000 sq feet) if pH is under 6.0. Or spread a little sulfur or gypsum if pH is over 7.0 to bring the pH down.
- 2) Mow at the magic height of 3.5 inches tall to lessen weeds
- 3) Leave the clippings every other time you mow with a mulching blade to return nutrients to the soil.
- 4) Use a small amount of organic fertilizer spring and fall rather than chemical fertilizer to have healthier soil and grass, that is safer for children and animals and the environment.
- 5) Sharpen your mower blade after every 10 hours of use. Make sure you always unplug your spark plug wire first, so it can not start up on you and lean the mower up. You can sharpen the mower blade in just a couple minutes with a cheap metal file, going at the same angle as the blade bevel. The grass will look better and mowing goes faster with a sharp blade.

Pearl's Premium is extremely drought tolerant & salt/bug/disease tolerant so it thrives in the extremes of desert or ocean landscapes or extreme hot and cold climates, full sun to deep shade all over the world.

It is the only grass to receive LEED credits (up to 6) from the US Green Building Council. It is also winner of the coveted International "MassChallenge Award for Innovation", out of 446 inventions they looked at from 26 countries. It was also recognized by the Boston Museum of Science as one of the 3 most important US patented inventions to come out of New England, after looking at over 600 great inventions. Although developed in Massachusetts, this seed mix grows well in all climates of the world. It can withstand extreme hot or cold temperatures and grows in all soils, for a lawn that will impress your neighbors.
