

Sagacious IP Joins Hand with WIPO GREEN to Contribute Through Research and Assistance

Sagacious IP, has joined WIPO GREEN - The Marketplace for Sustainable Technology as a partner to contribute in providing technology assistance and research.

EINDHOVEN, NETHERLANDS, June 26, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Sagacious IP, an award-winning IP research solutions provider, has joined WIPO GREEN - The Marketplace for Sustainable Technology as a partner to contribute in providing technology assistance and research to WIPO Green Community members.

WIPO GREEN, administered by the World Intellectual Property Organization, is an online platform that supports global efforts to address the pressing issue of climate change. The initiative connects seekers and providers of eco-friendly technologies through its online database and encourages innovation and diffusion of green technologies. WIPO GREEN partners with organizations that bring unique insight, expertise, and networks that are essential to fulfilling its mission.

Through this partnership, WIPO GREEN users can take advantage of pro-bono technical assistance for global patent research, green technology scouting and patent licensing capabilities of Sagacious IP. Additionally, Sagacious will work with WIPO GREEN to educate and create awareness among the WIPO community on intellectual property and green technologies through knowledge sharing in the form of webinars and technology landscape/benchmarking reports
