The F3 Tech Accelerator Program was launched three years ago to advance innovation and new technologies within agriculture, aquaculture, energy, supply chain and environmental technology sectors.

“We are thrilled to announce the third annual F3 Tech

Accelerator Program and have worked closely with Fortune 500 industry partners to identify their greatest commercial needs in hopes of attracting top global talent to solve those problems,” stated Chris Hlubb, Program Director of F3 Tech Accelerator Program. “We anticipate this year’s portfolio will include leading candidates in the energy storage, land-based aquaculture, and advanced soil health sectors, who will have an opportunity to present those solutions to the industry during the program.”

At the end of the program, the portfolio company with the greatest ability to obtain investment and generate revenue will be awarded $25,000.

The deadline to apply for the F3 Tech Accelerator Program is August 1, 2020. Finalists will be announced on August 24, 2020. The Accelerator Program starts September 8, 2020.
