The current pandemic is pressuring courtroom managers to modify their working methods to protect staff, lawyers and witnesses. To adapt to these new procedures, MaestroVision has developed a new technology which will allow judicial procedures to proceed digitally and "without contact".

MaestroVision's courtroom recording system features include:

- Submit documents without having to give them hand to hand
- Allow testimony by videoconference
- Present evidence without anyone having to physically touch it.
- Record audio, video, recording of documents, courtroom videoconferencing and evidence simultaneously
- Videotape the courtroom from multiple angles
- Automatically transfer recording to cloud medium specifically dedicated to the courtroom and immediately available for viewing and segment extraction post-trial
- Assign user permissions according to hierarchy
