SUN SHADE TARPS

At Tarps Now, Sun Shade Tarps are specifically made to provide both optimal shade coverage and weather protection. Manufactured in the United States, our shade tarps feature a knitted polyethylene mesh material with heavy-duty polypropylene webbing, providing excellent weather and sunlight protection but allowing airflow. Available in black, we offer four different shade levels—40, 50, 60 and 70 percent shade. We can also customize shade coverage to accommodate your application.

Tarps Now Sun Shade Tarps are typically used for agriculture applications, such as covering greenhouses and nurseries. In addition, shade tarps protect livestock from too much sunlight. While shade tarps do provide protection from extreme outdoor elements, they are specifically used to lessen the intensity of midday sun. A high quality shade tarp protects your plants and animals from harmful sunlight, optimizing the health of your plants and animals. They can also be used for outdoor kennels.

To meet the need for protective coverings around homes, animal habitats and other outdoor structures, Tarps Now® protective mesh tarp coverings are now offered in a wide range of mesh screen exposure ratings, weights, fabric grades and colors, each engineered to provide outstanding levels of protection from intense sunlight, as well as other forces of nature.

Applications for these new lines of Mesh Tarps extend to uses in and around homes, such as patios, decks, thresholds, gazebos, pools, picnic areas, barns, kennels and other outdoor recreational areas.

Conversely, many businesses are adopting the use of Mesh Shade Tarps to protect employees who work in areas where prolonged exposure to the elements exists such as in agricultural processing areas, animal feedlot areas, warehousing dock areas, shipping and receiving areas, and many other applications.

Further increasing risks of exposure from extended exposure to Ultra Violet radiation are Windscreens that offer varying levels of both UV protection and wind resistance, depending on the selected material and design.
