

SVHI PRP Therapy Announces New Post on PRP for Hair Loss in the Bay Area

SVHI PRP Therapy offers "platelet rich plasma" treatments for hair loss using industry-standard techniques.

PENSICOLA, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, July 31, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SHVI PRP Therapy, a Bay Area clinic focused on treatments for PRP (Platelet Rich Plasma) hair loss therapy at <https://svhi-prp.com/>, is proud to announce a newly updated 'FAQ' (Frequently Asked Questions) document on PRP therapy for hair loss, especially in Bay Area communities such as San Mateo, Burlingame, and Foster City.

"Clients often have questions on how PRP works and whether or not it may be effective for hair loss treatment," explained Miguel Canales, surgeon, and founder of SVHI PRP therapy. "Our FAQ document explains the basics, but we always recommend a client call or come in for a one-on-one consultation."

Bay Area residents can review the FAQ document at <https://svhi-prp.com/faq/>. The document starts off by focusing on the needs and issues of women as the fact of the matter is that women often suffer from hair thinning, and this is often treatable by PRP. It all depends on the particular situation. Another option is to visit the company's sister website, the Silicon Valley Hair Institute, and check out the blog. Post such as 'Women Can Lose Their Hair as Well as Men' at <https://siliconvalleyhairinstitute.com/women-can-lose-their-hair-as-well-as-men-and-it-can-be-very-embarrassing/> explain some of the particular issues faced by women as well. And, finally, persons who want to look their best should extend their efforts beyond their hair and look at their skincare issues; yet another website at <https://svaestheticderm.com/> touches on these issues. Regardless of whether the issue is hair or skin, Dr. Miguel Canales offers no obligation consultations where he can work with a patient, whether male or female, to improve their appearance.
