Launches Engaging, Fun, and Entertaining Thursday Night Virtual Concert Live Performance Series

Our concept is 'music and motivation from our home to yours' and provides viewers with feel-good music, good vibes, good entertainment, and just an overall positive forum for hip-hop music"

The series is designed to provide live entertainment for people who aren't able to go to live shows due to COVID-19.

A talented and charismatic group of musicians is pleased to announce the launch of their engaging, fun, and entertaining Thursday night virtual concert live performance series entitled 'This is Hip Hop Thursdays.'

This is Hip Hop Thursdays is a live music performance platform created by hip-hop artist, Hookdiggy, with the aim of providing a positive online musical experience to viewers from around the world. The group features performances by Hookdiggy himself, his industry colleague and fellow hip-hop artist, GODs Vessel, drummer J Spence, and producer/artist Clarkcannon.

"We came up with this idea because so many people across the country and globe are being forced to stay in their homes for extended periods of time, as a result of the ongoing pandemic," says Hookdiggy. "Our concept is 'music and motivation from our home to yours' and provides viewers with feel-good music, good vibes, good entertainment, and just an overall positive forum for hip-hop music amidst all the negativity around the genre."

This is Hip Hop Thursdays is streamed live every Thursday at 7pm Eastern on the group's website, on Facebook, and on YouTube. Each member of the group performs from their own homes, located in different parts of the United States, to provide a complete musical experience – just like being at a live concert!
