“When I co-founded ITAD Technologies in 2014, I could not have envisioned a better path than having Andrew Armour and Benjamin Howell as the future owners,” says the company’s founder Bill Baron. “Both of these men have enormous amounts of talent, vision, and industry experience. I know the future is very bright for ITAD Tech, our employees, and our customers. Andrew has been part of the ITAD Tech story since its inception and without his efforts the company would not be what it is today. The best is yet to come for ITAD Tech and I look forward to my continued involvement in creating the next chapter in the ITAD Tech story.”

As the new company President, Andrew Armour has a clear vision for the future.

“The foundation has been laid for ITAD Tech and our company is in a prime position for growth,” states Armour. "I am excited about what the future holds as we continue to invest in our employees to create the best customer experience possible in the market."

"In the increasingly digital age we live, technology is being consumed at a record setting pace," adds Benjamin Howell, who will serve as VP of Sales. "ITAD Tech is well positioned to help our clients dispose of their retired IT assets with a priority on protecting their data while maximizing ROI and being good stewards of the environment."

Founding owners David Heller and Bill Baron will remain employees and involved in the day-to-day business of the company.
