Today, the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office is leading the nation in police reform. Years ago, under Ric Bradshaw's leadership, PBSO spearheaded changes that were necessary and the right thing to do. The Sheriff's Office is an Accredited Excelsior Agency following "best practices" and implementing the #8CantWait policy changes, including de-escalation strategies and bans on choke-holds.

With Sheriff Bradshaw's strong background and experience in community-based policing, PBSO's strategies serve as a model for other law enforcement agencies across the country. PBSO works with the faith-based community, community organizations, youth programs and business groups to build trust and work together to reduce crime and keep people safe.

Under Sheriff Bradshaw, Palm Beach County Sheriff's office has led the nation in addressing the pill mill and opioid crisis, gang violence and violent crime and stopping sexual predators from harming our children or seniors. In the wake of several school shootings, Congress turned to Ric Bradshaw to testify about how police agencies can prevent school shootings and what policies can be implemented to keep our kids and schools safe.

Sheriff Bradshaw has directed millions of dollars that were seized from criminal organizations to support our kids, seniors and underserved communities. These programs provide on the ground resources to support those who need it most.

As the Sheriff of Palm Beach County, Ric Bradshaw is responsible for overseeing all Homeland Security for South Florida. That means Palm Beach County now receives additional funding, training and information to keep our borders and neighborhoods safe from terrorists, drug traffickers and others who want to harm U.S. citizens. Ric Bradshaw is the only candidate with the training, qualifications and credentials to lead this agency.
