Gentle Procedures Hamilton is offering virtually painless Pollock Technique™ circumcision for babies, boys, teens, and adult men.

The Pollock circumcision method is a virtually pain-free technique that involves the use of a Mogen clamp along with long-acting local anaesthetics.

Both provide equally good cosmetic results.

No medical referral or hospital visit is necessary.

Procedures are performed under local anaesthetic with a short visit to the clinic for the procedure, as well as a later follow up appointment.

Gentle Procedures Hamilton also offers penile frenulectomy and frenuloplasty - procedures that can alleviate the pain associated with a tight penile frenulum - the band of tissue connecting the glans to the shaft of the penis on its underside.

A tight frenulum can exist in both circumcised and uncircumcised men and can create a restriction that is susceptible to micro-trauma, causing bleeding and painful erections. A penile frenulectomy is a specialized technique that treats this condition by removing the tight restriction, allowing increased penile skin range of motion and sexual enjoyment.

The mission of Gentle Procedures Clinic is to uphold the highest international standards of male surgical care while treating patients with compassion, dignity, and respect.
