of the nation's fastest-growing private companies. The list represents a unique look at the most successful companies within the American economy's most dynamic segment—its independent small businesses. Intuit, Zappos, Under Armour, Microsoft, Patagonia, and many other well-known names gained their first national exposure as honorees on the Inc. 5000.

"Our presence and performance on the Inc. 5000 is a testament to the execution of our business strategy and delivery of intuitive, integrated digital user experiences that simplify complex human-to-computer interactions for our clients," said Maria Taylor, CEO, Limina. "I'd like to take this opportunity to thank our employees for their dedication to excellence, and to our clients for trusting us with their most critical design, user experience and IT initiatives."

Limina is planning for aggressive revenue growth and new employees over the next five years. Currently, Limina is hiring a content factory lead, IT project manager, QA manager, senior business analyst, senior Drupal developer, training manager, and business development specialist in the Denver and Longmont, Colorado area. More positions will be posted soon on Limina's careers page.

More about Inc. and the Inc. 5000

Methodology

The 2020 Inc. 5000 is ranked according to percentage revenue growth when comparing 2016 and 2019. To qualify, companies must have been founded and generating revenue by March 31, 2016. They had to be U.S.-based, privately held, for profit, and independent—not subsidiaries or divisions of other companies—as of December 31, 2019. (Since then, a number of companies on the list have gone public or been acquired.) The minimum revenue required for 2016 is $100,000; the minimum for 2019 is $2 million. As always, Inc. reserves the right to decline applicants for subjective reasons. Companies on the Inc. 500 are featured in Inc.’s September issue. They represent the top tier of the Inc. 5000, which can be found at <http://www.inc.com/inc5000>.
