Apollos University and Westcliff University collaborating to provide pathways to affordable and regionally accredited bachelor degrees.

GREAT FALLS, MT, UNITED STATES, August 26, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Students can now gain a truly affordable regionally accredited Bachelor of Science in Business Administration (BSBA) or Bachelor of Science in Information Technology (BSIT). Students study online for the first 3 years as students of Apollos University and then the fourth (4) year as students of Westcliff University either online or on campus. Westcliff is approved under the Student and Exchange Visitor Program (SEVP) to accept eligible foreign students to obtain a student visa to live in the USA while studying with Westcliff University during the final year of the degree program.

Dr. Kelly Lancaster, Apollos University, Executive Vice President Administration

Undergraduate Tuition Per Credit:

* Apollos University: During the first three years, the student will pay \$202 per credit (e-Textbooks provided without cost to the student - study online for three years)

* Westcliff University : During the fourth year the student will pay $450 per credit ($490 for International {F-1} students) for year 2020-2021 - study online or on campus for final year)

Apollos University has open enrollment. New classes start almost every Monday of the year. During the first three years of the BSBA program, students will complete their General Education and business classes such as Accounting, Finance, Leadership, Marketing, Program Management, Banking and Finance Services Management, and Procurement and Supply Chain Management. At Westcliff University, the students will further their overall business knowledge with classes in Entrepreneurship, Sales Management, Advertising, Decision Making and Strategy.

Students enrolled in the BSIT program will experience a unique mixture of Business and Computer/Information Technology topics. The program is designed to prepare graduates for the real world where they will be working alongside corporate business and technology professionals. Information Technology crosses all spectrums of the business therefore IT professional must have the ability to quickly understand business requirements in order to offer suggestions and meet the challenges they will face in the day-to-day corporate activities.

Apollos University's Executive Vice President of Administration, Dr. Kelly Lancaster, stated, "Leaders of Apollos and Westcliff are excited to offer this incredible opportunity for students to earn a highly sought after regionally accredited undergraduate degree at a reasonable price with the added benefit of receiving a regionally accredited degree from two highly respected institutions operating in the distance and on campus educational venues."
