

Embraer and the Brazilian Air Force to discuss the latest insight on the KC-390 at Military Airlift and AAR 2020

SMi Reports: Embraer's presentation details have been released and a new speaker has joined the line-up ahead of the conference in Seville, Spain, this December

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, August 13, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In recent news, it was announced that Embraer delivered the third multi-mission medium airlift C-390 Millennium in the series to the Brazilian Air Force (FAB). The aircraft will be operated by First Troop Transport Group (1st GGT). Similar to the first two units delivered in 2019 and the additional 25 which will be delivered to the FAB, this third unit is prepared to perform aerial refueling missions, with the KC-390 Millennium designation. *

About Embraer

In addition to the A-29 Super Tucano light attack and advanced trainer and the multi-mission KC-390 military airlift, Embraer Defense & Security provides a full line of integrated solutions and applications such as Command and Control Center (C4I), radars, ISR (Intelligence, Surveillance & Reconnaissance) and space. This also includes integrated systems for information, communications, border monitoring and surveillance as well as aircraft for authorities' transportation and special missions.

This year's event will host a holistic discussion involving all major stakeholders in the air mobility and AAR domains. Now in its 21st year, this respected event is a must attend for the community, exploring how partner nations conduct AAR operations and where future collaboration in mission sets may be possible.
