Hosted by Forcura, the one-day innovative virtual conference will provide thought leadership content and conversations on the technical, business and clinical aspects of the care continuum, along with a special session for Forcura clients.

The Summit will cover a range of significant subjects such as:

Data and Analytics – technical aspects of connectivity and interoperability

Patient & Provider Relationship Management – business of enabling continuity of care

Care Team Collaboration – clinical connectivity and its impact on patient care

“The inaugural Forcura CONNECT Summit is going to be a virtual event unlike any other as this significant group of healthcare leaders come together to problem-solve the continuity of care issues that the pandemic has clearly revealed,” said Forcura Founder and CEO Craig Mandeville.

“The Forcura team is focused on delivering solutions that positively impact the health care community. Even though Forcura’s solution is just one spoke in the wheel, we hope for sweeping improvements and discoveries.”

Forcura seeks to advance the care continuum beyond the Summit and will package the results of the event and release an overall vision for improving tools, technologies and overall communication in the acute and post-acute care industries.

All proceeds raised from the $50 registration fee will be donated to United Way Worldwide’s COVID-19 Community Response and Recovery Fund. For more information about the Summit or to register, please visit forcura.com/connectsummit.
