

SMi Group Announce Seven Key Reasons to attend Global MilSatCom 2020

SMi Report: SMi Group announces 7 key reasons to attend the Global MilSatCom Confex, a key diary date for anyone within the military space industry.

LONDON, GREATER LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, August 14, 2020
/EINPresswire.com/ -- The 22nd Annual Global MilSatCom Conference and Exhibition is returning to London on the 10th, 11th and 12th November 2020, alongside a Small Satellites and Disruptive Space Technology Focus Day on the 9th November, virtual-remote access option is available.

Attending this year in-person or virtually will provide attendees a comprehensive overview of how allied partners are working to maintain and sustain space superiority.

The brochure with the updated conference and focus day agendas and expert speaker line-up can be downloaded on the event website at www.globalmilsatcom.com/PR3

SMi Group announce top 7 key reasons to attend this year's Global MilSatCom:

- 1) Delegates will hear SATCOM updates from the following nations: Australia, Canada, France, Germany, Japan, Luxembourg, New Zealand, Norway, Spain, United Kingdom, USA and more.
- 2) The agenda features over 50 key presentations discussing the latest topics on 'space superiority', UK's SKYNET programme and international SATCOM programme developments, allied collaboration and future military programmes, resilience and protection in future architectures, next generation LEO small sat constellation and more.
- 3) Update on the UK's MILSATCOM programme as it developed SKYNET 6 and sets requirements for SKYNET 7.

- 4) Delegates will learn about the key considerations of what LEO constellation development means for the MILSATCOM community.
- 5) With an international speaker line-up unrivalled within other events, delegates will receive updates from established and emerging space-developing nations across the globe and understand the latest technological solutions.
- 6) A dedicated focus day looking at how small satellites and disruptive space technology is transforming the space enterprise and what this means for the burgeoning connectivity on terra firma.
- 7) Delegates will have the opportunity to meet and network with 550+ attendees (either in-person or virtually) from defence agencies, militaries, governments and industry over 16 hours of breaks; as well as 2 drinks receptions and 2 (invitation only) conference dinners.
