alliance with new company, Arcview Capital. As an independent broker-dealer, Arcview Capital is a firm of trusted experts who work to navigate the cannabis sector while enabling opportunities from capital investments.

“It’s important that our investors know all opportunities presented by Arcview Capital have been vetted through a rigorous process,” says Kimberly Kovacs, CEO of The Arcview Group. “The Arcview ecosystem also brings with it The Arcview Advantage™ which delivers a trifecta of services including: Dealmaking, Community and Research/Education.”

Arcview Capital is one of the first broker-dealers working within the cannabis industry. While the use and possession of marijuana remains illegal under US Federal law¹, Arcview focuses its efforts on hemp, CBD, and ancillary products. In addition to the traditional risks associated with investing, cannabis related companies are subject to various laws and regulations that may differ at the state level and Federal level and can have an adverse effect on a company’s ability to secure financing, impact the market for sales and services and established limitations on use. 2

Arcview looks to assist issuers and investors to navigate the additional risks and challenges brought about by investing in cannabis in both the short-term and long term.

“We are thoughtfully invested in the companies we partner with and really want to help them grow their businesses,” says Jeffrey Pasquerella, CEO of Arcview Capital. “Aligning ourselves with one of the largest and oldest cannabis investor organizations brings credibility and trust.”

With over 25 years combined regulatory agency experience and over 50 years combined compliance expertise, their track record speaks volumes. Arcview Capital is composed of tenured professionals from JP Morgan, Morgan Stanley, UBS, HSBC, and FINRA. The team brings decades of extensive sales, trading, family office, M&A, risk, regulatory and legal experience to our members looking for potential investment growth and diversification in their portfolio.

The Arcview Group and Arcview Capital are poised to support the industry together and collaborate to continue bringing best-in-class leadership to the cannabis industry. The companies bring unparalleled access to the cannabis sector for investors, companies, and those wanting to explore this essential industry.
