

Integrity Compliance Solutions, LLC Adds Unmanned Aerial Vehicle (UAV) Photography to Service Offerings

Drone photography proves to be a valuable tool for inspection services

OKLAHOMA CITY, USA, August 27, 2020

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Integrity and

Compliance Solutions, LLC, a full service provider of oil and gas engineering, and operational solutions for pipelines and facilities, is adding Unmanned Aerial Vehicle (UAV) photography to its service offerings.

Integrity Compliance Solutions UAV

pilots are FAA licensed and professional engineering (PE) licensed, able to identify areas of equipment needing additional inspection and attention. The company says its drones can deliver a variety of data content including high resolution imagery, video, and geographic information.

Our trained UAV pilots' inspection-quality images capture critical information from the aerial camera.”

“Our trained UAV pilots' inspection-quality images capture critical information from the aerial camera,” President Derek Sollberger, Integrity Compliance Solutions, states. “There are so many circumstances where traditional visual inspections would cost significantly more and introduce human risk factors.”

According to the company, UAV photography is a viable inspection alternative when:

- property access is challenging;
- a company is having surface owner relation issues;
- the equipment is on environmentally sensitive land;
- noise is restricted; and

-operational resources are limited.
