

Film Director Mariano Santillán, based in Argentina, continues work on Short Film based on sci-fi story "JoinWith.Me"

The screenplay JoinWith.Me has received multiple accolades in 2020. Despite the COVID situation, short film production continues.

TUCUMAN, TUCUMAN, ARGENTINA, August 29, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Argentine film and video director Mariano Santillán is continuing work on a sci-fi short film based on the recently published book and screenplay JoinWith.Me. The screenplay has received multiple accolades, and the book is now available on Amazon.com as an eBook and Paperback.

"We began production before COVID-19, and had to put everything on hold for a while. Now we are facing a different situation: quarantine, closed locations, staff and actors are unavailable. Thus, we had to change the script for the short film. The pieces that we were able complete before are now accessible through QR codes in the book JoinWith.Me," explains Mariano.

He adds that, "Because of the current situation, we decided to shorten the length of the film to a few minutes and focus on a dramatic high point of the Novel, a traumatic episode that Sam, our protagonist, experiences at a psychiatric hospital."

JoinWith.Me is a dystopian thriller that explores timely questions: whether we control technology or it controls us; the singularity horizon where AI crosses the threshold into self-awareness; the enduring power of human connection; and the ultimate destiny of humankind.

"Reducing the length of the original short film was very challenging. The new script focuses on that disturbing scene that I really like, and I hope that other people will like it, too. Making the film shorter allows us to pay more attention, and dedicate more budget, to technical aspects such as computer animation. I want the short film to pay tribute to the novel, which completely blows my mind. Mike the author [Mike Meier] set the bar very high." Mariano concludes.

The short film is expected to be distributed in November 2020.

In brief, the storyline is: In the year 2032, Sam Vanderpool lives a lonely existence with a menial job in an urban dystopia that is impersonal and dominated by technology. Sam is jolted from his routine when an ad appears on his computer screen that takes him to a website called JoinWith.Me. The site offers counseling for the lonely, and Sam decides to log on. He talks to a girl who offers to help him be happier and find a girlfriend. Or so he thinks...

When she tells him to give all his money to a stranger, Sam reports her to the police, but they brush him off. He decides to leave town, but his flight is mysteriously canceled. Where there is a chip, a screen, or an interface, there she is. In desperation, he abandons the life he knows and becomes one of the city's homeless, scrounging for money and befriending transients: Gabrielle, an immigrant with the voice of an angel and a direct connection to God, and Joey, an armless man who makes art with his feet...
