

Jenesse Center launches its very own app

Jenesse4Hope is FREE and available in The App Store for iPhone users and in Google Play for Android users.

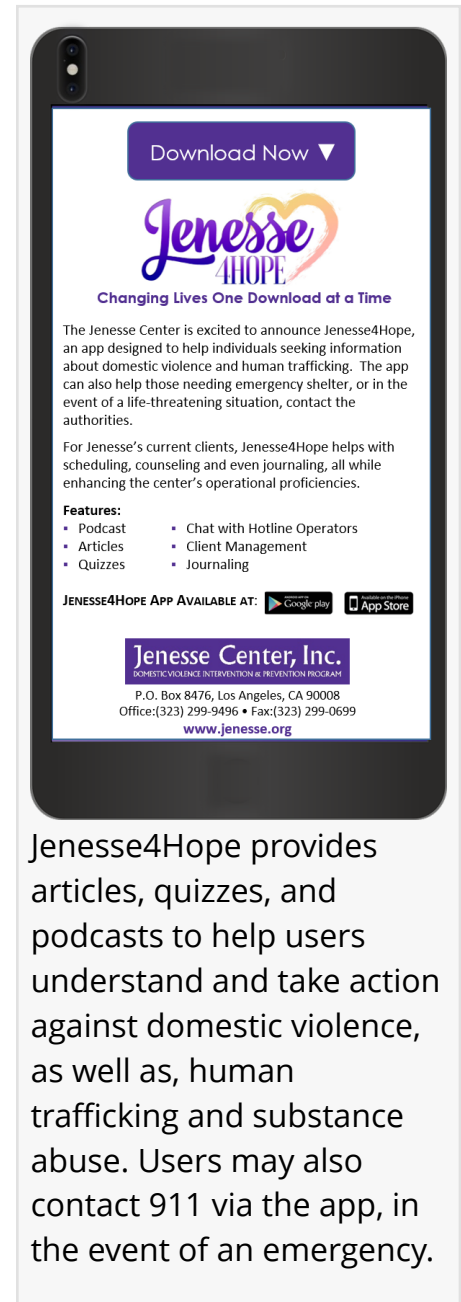

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, August 31, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Jenesse Center, Inc., a domestic violence prevention and intervention program, is proud to announce the development of a new app, Jenesse4Hope to reach and assist victims of domestic violence.

Karen Earl, Jenesse CEO said, "We are proud to have this new resource in place to meet the need of our clients and the communities we serve. The app extends Jenesse's reach beyond our traditional geographical limits by providing a digital solution for both clients and the public at large who can benefit from our culturally sensitive, trauma-informed programs and services that combat the effects of domestic violence. We are virtual-world ready to help those who need us. Jenesse staff understand that when they see a need or opportunity to serve and have an idea to implement, they will be supported by the team. I'm grateful that everyone understands our work goes beyond the obvious and into non-traditional spaces and places to make the maximum impact."

Jenesse4Hope is FREE and available in The App Store for iPhone users and in Google Play for Android users. Jenesse4Hope provides articles, quizzes, and podcasts to help users understand and take action against domestic violence, human trafficking and substance abuse. Users may also contact 911 via the app, in the event of an emergency.

For the general public, the app features quick access to Jenesse's trauma-informed hotline operators 24/7, via chat, email or phone allowing users to learn more about the center's programs, services and shelter options.

For Jenesse's clients, the app enhances the already comprehensive services provided by the agency to include one-click safety check-in, digital journaling, appointment scheduling and Jenesse4Hope provides articles, quizzes, and podcasts to help users understand and take action against domestic violence, as well as, human trafficking and substance abuse. Users may also contact 911 via the app, in the event of an emergency.

document management, as well as, a contact book of key Jenesse Center, Inc. personnel.

Earl reflected, "With COVID-19 and all the challenges we face centering marginalized communities, I'm very hopeful because there are so many people and organizations collaborating together to bring light to new ideas."

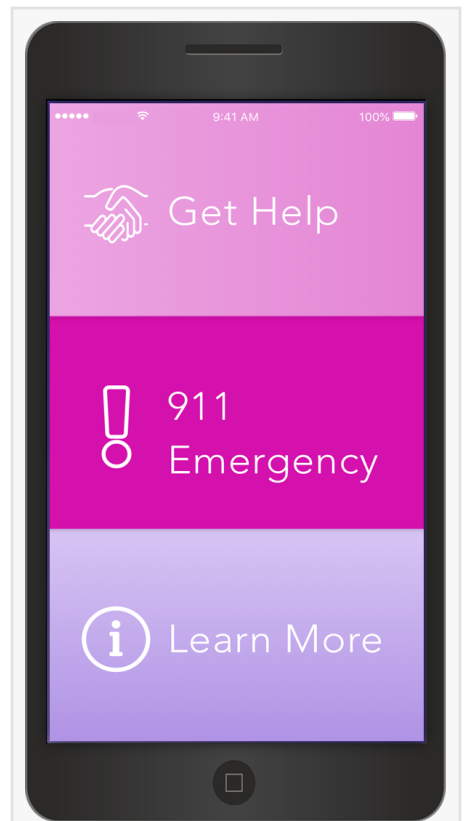

To learn more about Jenesse Center, visit us online at www.jenesse.org or call 323-299-9496.

“

We are proud to have this new resource in place to meet the need of our clients and the communities we serve.”

Karen Earl, CEO Jenesse Center

Jeanine Taylor
JCEC Public Relations
+1 213-399-5301
email us here
Visit us on social media:
Facebook
Twitter
LinkedIn

For the general public, Jenesse4Hope features quick access to Jenesse's trauma-informed hotline operators 24/7, via chat, email or phone allowing users to learn more about the center's programs, services and shelter options.

Karen Earl, CEO Jenesse Center

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/525201595>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2020 IPD Group, Inc. All Right Reserved.