

NLP Logix and QuantHub Announce Partnership to Deliver Data Science Project and Skills Assessments

A new partnership between NLP Logix and QuantHub enables companies to launch AI initiatives with a clear roadmap for success.

BIRMINGHAM, AL, UNITED STATES, September 1, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- QuantHub, a leading data science skills assessment and development platform has partnered with NLP Logix, an AI solutions company to deliver holistic opportunity assessments for organizations looking to apply new AI/ML technologies.

This new partnership will allow firms to not only identify possible ways to apply AI/ML to their operations, but will also map out the technical skills needed for each project.

Once an analytics assessment is complete, organizations will receive an AI roadmap which identifies the best use cases for applying AI to their business, expected ROI, and a resource plan with the data science skills needed to complete these projects.

QuantHub is passionate about helping companies leverage the power of AI. We are excited to partner with NLP Logix as they share in our passion”
