

Tenant Inc, Storelocal® and Claims Pros Streamline Claims Management

NEWPORT BEACH, CA, UNITED STATES, September 1, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Tenant Inc's marketing website for self-storage operators now offers customers seamless, self-service online access to the property protection claims process.

“We are pleased to enhance Mariposa’s cutting-edge website technology with the added benefit of direct access to leading loss claim processing technology,” said Lance Watkins, CEO of Tenant Inc. “Through streamlining the process between customers and loss claims with real-time interaction, two-way communication, document signing and photo uploading, Mariposa has, what we believe, delivered the first protection integration through a website in the industry.”

Through streamlining the process between customers and loss claims, Mariposa brings what we believe is the first protection integration through a website in the industry.”

Lance Watkins, Tenant Inc

Tenant Inc’s website technology integrates with leading claims management technology, allowing customers to communicate directly with the Storelocal® protection plan adjuster through a secure portal on the Mariposa website. Users can submit claims, monitor real-time claim status and progress in a centralized communication hub for all involved stakeholders. Additionally, the platform is secured by 2048-bit SSL encryption, which authenticates user access for added security.

“This is another way Tenant Inc leverages Nectar technology to integrate with our partners to deliver nothing but exemplary service to our customers,” said Travis Morrow, CEO of Storelocal® Storage Co-op.
