The concert will be streamed tonight at 8:15 pm PST at: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=B9yLrXkRazQ&ab_channel=AuroraBorealis-Shoreline%2CWA and features Megs and her full touring band. The band has been writing and rehearsing, while attending to personal affairs, however this marks the first time the band has performed together since live performances were banned due to COVID 19.

Big thanks to my incredibly dedicated band and the Aurora Borealis team for their commitment to live entertainment.”

The doors are now closed to the public at the Aurora Borealis but its crew of professionals, from sound engineers to video editors, are still recording and broadcasting these select performances free of charge to the public to entertain and to boost the music industry. Money raised during the live streams goes to covering costs and paying musicians of all genera, and helps support an entire network of musicians, venues, agents, promoters, producers, writers, sound techs, light techs and video professionals. Donations can be made at any time at <http://Paypal.me/Borealisaurora>

Megs McLean commented: “We are honored to be featured on ABTV’s Live stream of our concert. The band and I agree that it is definitely not the same without you, our live audience. I know I am not only speaking for myself when I say the future of our industry is in our hands. Big thanks to my incredibly dedicated band and the Aurora Borealis team for their commitment to live entertainment. So, let's get out there... in person when we can, or virtually for the time being... and do whatever we can do, through donations, or social media shares and likes, to support all music."
