11th of 2001. Finally, those who have suffered and lost their lives to COVID-19 will be remembered.

Healing Field® & Field of Honor® Flag Display Programs

Area residents are invited to visit the flag display from Friday, September 11th through Monday, September 14th, where they can view the display driving around Sandy City's Promenade. With ten foot intervals between flag rows and columns, visitors will also have room to maintain social distancing while walking amid the flags.

Who will provide this display?

Created to bring these impressive flag displays not only to Utah but to communities around the country, the Colonial Flag Foundation continues this beloved tradition even amid pandemic restrictions. While many charities have benefited from funds raised during past years, the Colonial Flag Foundation will receive the charitable support this year as the foundation helps local charities along with communities around the nation as they raise funds for their local charities.

Why will Healing Field flags fly this year?

The year 2020 is a time when the United States flag offered healing with the reminder that we all struggle together to overcome and solve circumstances we would not have believed when the year began. In the words of a retired US Marine sergeant, "After the World Wars, the flags came out. It is time for the flags to come out again."

The public may visit our website at <https://www.healingfield.org/utah20> for more information, to view a video of last year's Utah Healing Field and to sponsor flags will be shipped to purchasers at the events conclusion.
