EINPresswire.com/ -- The innovative software provider TunesKit Studio, has recently announced the launch of its new utility software named TunesKit Video Repair. It's a powerful video repair tool that can help users repair any corruption of your video files, such as blurry, frozen, or flickering videos, out-of-sync, black screen or videos that cannot be played, etc. Both Windows and Mac versions of the application have been released at this time.

TunesKit Video Repair Main Interface

We know that video matters, especially the ones that record the important moment of our life. That's why we have developed such a useful tool to help people solve the trouble.”

*Williams, Director of TunesKit
R&D Team*

TunesKit Repair for Video supports a wide range of media formats including M4V, MP4, MKV, MOV, AVI, 3GP, 3G2, MP3, M4A, and many others. Moreover, this software can repair corrupt videos shot from various devices such as iPhone, iPad, Android mobile phone, digital cameras, GoPro cameras, drone cameras, DSLR, etc. or broken videos stored in SD card, hard drive, USB drive, etc. No matter how your videos are damaged during the shooting, transferring, editing, etc. TunesKit can fix the header, movement, slider, duration, etc. for you.

Another feature of TunesKit Video Repair is that it supports to fix numerous video files with different formats simultaneously and the number of video files is unlimited. Unlike other similar programs that can only fix videos, TunesKit Video Repair software can not only repair corrupted video files but also broken audio files efficiently.

More importantly, TunesKit Video Repair is an easy-to-use program with an extremely simple design. The repair process can be done with 3 steps only. First, just add the corrupted videos for repair, then click the Repair button to start the fixing, and finally preview and export the repaired files to your computer. Anyone can easily operate it, no technical skills required.

Price and Availability

TunesKit Repair for Video offers three different pricing plans for users. It includes a Single License at $39.95, which can only be used on one computer; a Family License at $59.95 for 2~5 computers, and an Unlimited License at $79.95 for use on any computer without limitation. Of course, it also offers a free trial version for users to have a try before purchasing. However, users are not allowed to export the repaired videos with the trial version. If you want to save the repaired video files, you need to upgrade to the full version.

In terms of the availability, TunesKit Video Repair software is fully compatible with both Mac and Windows systems, including almost all versions such as the latest macOS 10.14 Mojave, and 10.15 Catalina as well as Windows 10. You can download the trial version for free before purchasing!
