About PanXchange

PanXchange is a Price Discovery Platform, not a price reporting agency (PRA) because it is backed by actual physical commodity trade activity, not just reported values which often includes brokers and analysts. PanXchange provides the only institutional-grade trading platform that's patent-protected and in production in multiple markets, it's the objective data gleaned from that activity that serves as a foundation for objective price discovery. Specifically, PanXchange is the leading benchmark price provider in the US hemp industry and the defacto benchmark price provider in the 120 million ton specialty sand market for US oil and gas.
