The 2020 Financial Services Awards were presented by Ignites Research and Financial Advisor IQ to recognize fund companies, retirement plan recordkeepers and Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) law specialists that financial advisors designate as outstanding partners of their practices. The votes of 1,144 advisors were surveyed to arrive at the award recipients. The awards serve as an important reminder of the strong bond between financial advisors and the service partners on whom they rely. These ties are especially critical now, as COVID-19 has fundamentally changed how advisors and their partners interact. Financial Advisor IQ is an advisor resource from the Financial Times. It informs, educates, and connects advisors with daily news focusing on practice management and a network of industry content from leading fund firms.
