Ampcus, a global business and technology company, announced successful completion of the Service Organization Control (SOC) 2, Type 2 examination. The AICPA-compliant audit provides reasonable assurance that Ampcus service commitments and system requirements were achieved, based on the relevant trust services criteria (security, availability, processing integrity, confidentiality and privacy).

“

SOC 2 Type 2 report provides confidence and transparency to Ampcus customers that our processes are well controlled and meet today's stringent demands for security, processing integrity and privacy”

Salil Sankaran

“The SOC 2 Type 2 report provides confidence and transparency to Ampcus customers that our systems and operating environment are well controlled and meet today's stringent demands for security, processing integrity and privacy,” says Salil Sankaran, Ampcus President. “With the reputation we've built for customer service and quality delivery, this independent audit of our controls is another example of Ampcus' focus on operational excellence.”
