

The Magic Moments Christmas collection has arrived at A Treasured Home

Lithophane Christmas ornaments are made from plastic and 3D printed. These ornaments are sure to create memorable moments this holiday season.

GLEN BURNIE, MARYLAND, UNITED STATES, September 24, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Windmillers of A Treasured Home are releasing their brand new "Magic Memories" collection. The collection will feature over ten brand new 3D printed lithophane ornaments including two to benefit charities. This magical collection is launching on September 25, 2020.

Lithophanes are known for their ability to create a little "magic". When there is no light applied to them they look like textured plastic. Once illuminated, the magic happens right before your eyes. The design or photo just pops out from the product. This is something that you will absolutely want on your Christmas tree this season.

A Treasured Home is recognized for their ability to create and personalize beautiful items that will quickly become staples within your life.

The Magic Moments collection will feature designs such as Santa's sleigh being pulled along by dinosaurs, a sweet cardinal, dancing snowmen, and
