PUNE, MAHARASTRA, INDIA, September 30, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ --

Security information and event management Market 2020

Summary: -

Global security information and event management market was valued at US$ 1.96 Bn in 2017 and is expected to reach US$ 4.30 Bn by 2026, at a CAGR of 10.32% during a forecast period.

Security information and event management market includes products designed to collect data from different sources to identify patterns of events that might signify misuse of critical data, failure, invasion, or attack on systems.

The increasing level of sophistication in cybercrimes and rising compliance and regulatory mandates are the major driving factors for the security information and event management market growth. Security information and event management market provide better threat intelligence, better analytics, and behavior profiling which in turn aids to detect the breaches early and take required preventive actions. However, the high deployment cost and scalability of security information and event management market solutions may reduce the growth of the market.
