Adventure is only as important as who you choose to adventure with.

TELLURIDE, CO, USA, October 1, 2020
/EINPresswire.com/ -- HARVEY LEWIS, III

"I feel like this summer, this Appalachian Trail experience, definitely gave me an opportunity to have some greater stretch of time with my father that I didn't have at a younger age."

"This will probably be the greatest experience we have had together."

HARVEY LEWIS, Jr.

"...and I think we both grew; grew in our different ways. And we grew together. I think that's the story."

Like Harvey Like Son in Theaters October 2

TELLURIDE, CO – October 1, 2020 – Find yourself racing into the fall season, fully immersed in the touching story of ultra-runner Harvey Lewis, III and his father Harvey Lewis, Jr. On May 30th 2018, Cincinnati-based high school teacher Harvey Lewis III set out to attempt the Fastest Known Time on the Appalachian Trail. The moment Harvey's father (Jr.) offered to be his son's crew chief, he KNEW this challenge would mean more to him than just putting in the miles.

Separated from his father by divorce early in Harvey's youth, the trail might certainly have lived up to its numerous metaphors, including the most frequently used, "finding one's self", but together, he and his 78-year-old father-turned-crew-chief navigate the challenges of remote wilderness and unpredictable weather on their 2,190 mile journey to the top of Mount Katahdin.

Along the way they encounter a cast of colorful characters, humorous interludes, geographic obstacles and excruciating physical pain, all the while discovering that the trail is about much more than just escape. This time, they might truly find their way back together.

About Harvey Lewis, III

Harvey Lewis is an educator, adventurer and endurance athlete! In 2004, Harvey was involved in a near fatal car accident that left him with a broken neck. Neurosurgeons rebuilt his 4th and 5th vertebra with added titanium and bone implants. Since then, his recovery and accomplishments have been nothing short of amazing.

Harvey went on to recover and to become a much stronger runner than he ever was before. He won the Badwater 135, described by National Geographic as the world's toughest foot race, runners run 135 miles from the lowest point in the Western Hemisphere to the portal of the highest mountain in the lower 48 states. The race is in Death Valley National Park, the hottest place on the planet, where temperatures have reached 134 degrees Fahrenheit. Two weeks ago he ran 156.3 miles in 24 hours to qualify for a 5th consecutive time to represent Team USA at the 24 Hour World Championships.

Harvey's adventures have taken him to 95 countries on all 7 continents largely on a shoestring budget. Harvey has run many historic routes including Gandhi's 241 mile Salt March in India, the Selma Civil Rights March in Alabama and most recently the 2,190 miles of the Appalachian Trail. Harvey's epic journey on the Appalachian Trail with his father last summer is chronicled in the recently released feature documentary "Like Harvey, Like Son."

In August 2020, Harvey set the FKT between the lowest point in the continental U.S. (Death Valley) to the highest point (summit of Mt. Whitney).

About Director Rudy Harris, Jr.

Rudy Harris is a filmmaker based in Bellevue, Kentucky. Rudy, along with his wife Tammi, owns Harris Media Co, a commercial video and photo production company in neighboring Covington, Kentucky. Rudy serves as the President of Harris Media Co and also is its primary Producer & Director. He became interested in video during his high school Communications course in 2002. But it wasn't until after he was fired from his full time Director of Photography position, only one month before his wedding to Tammi in 2011, that he started to see growth in himself and his storytelling ability. Mostly working in the corporate and commercial space, he has generated a book of clients ranging from large healthcare companies, consumer product businesses, and non-profit organizations. He hopes to continue to grow his business "to affect positive change" for his family, his employees, and the community. Like Harvey Like Son is Rudy's debut into filmmaking.
