

Volante partners with The Intelligence Factory to bring Artificial Intelligence training to the Asia Pacific region

The partnership provides high-end Artificial Intelligence technology training, re-skilling, and learning solutions for companies across all industries.

SAINT LOUIS, MO, USA, October 6, 2020

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Volante Asia Pacific Services Pte Ltd, a boutique consulting firm in Singapore, and the Intelligence Factory, an Artificial Intelligence powerhouse headquartered in St Louis, Missouri, announce a partnership to deliver skills-based training as a strategic pathway for achieving Digital Transformation. Through the partnership, Volante is now able to provide insights and guidance for companies in Digital Transformations, infuse organizations with data science practices, and deliver high-level digital skills education and AI workforce training throughout the region.

Volante's focus on Digital Transformation services leverages the Intelligence Factory's expert teams and experience across all sectors including finance and banking, insurance, oil & gas, technology, automotive, manufacturing, and consumer goods.

Forward-thinking organizations want their employees to be trained to understand AI & the other emerging technology standards that all businesses need to leverage for success in the new digital economy”

“We're excited to partner with Volante,” said Matthew Lamons, Managing Partner of the Intelligence Factory, “there is a huge need for expert guidance through Digital Transformations. Most companies don't know how to navigate the process, and very few achieve transformations with measurable ROI without outside help. We're hyper-focused on helping businesses gain authentic value from transformation.”

“We bring the ability for employees to learn all about applied Artificial Intelligence,” continues Lamons, “supplementing their work experience and giving companies a significant competitive advantage. Forward-thinking organizations want their employees to be trained to understand AI and the other emerging technology standards that all businesses will need to leverage for success in the new digital economy.”

The Partners of Volante agree, “Volante seeks to bring a fresh approach to Digital Transformation. One of the keys for successful implementation is equipping and empowering employees. Training helps transition people into more effective roles and allows companies to maximize their value from each employee. We believe our partnership with The Intelligence Factory will provide best-of-breed Artificial Intelligence technology training, reskilling, and learning solutions for companies across all industries.”
