Life Elements Mercury Retrograde CBD Bath Bomb

The year 2020 has been fraught with unprecedented upheaval and astrology devotees believe Mercury's final showing this year may create a bit more turbulence in the few weeks leading up to an already unusual Halloween and momentous US election. Mercury Retrograde is a celestial event that cycles three times per year when the planet Mercury appears to travel backwards when viewed from earth. For astrology buffs, this event is significant because it is said to create cosmic chaos adversely affecting communications, technology, travel, services, and the psyche.

Made with 250 mg of broad-spectrum hemp-derived CBD as well as a heavenly blend of essential oils including ylang-ylang, frankincense, myrrh, palo santo and patchouli, the Mercury Retrograde CBD Bath Bomb provides a soothing soak, to not only "thwart cosmic chaos", but provide a natural healing effect. This particular bath bomb is part of Life Elements highly rated collection with a reputation for delivering the cleanest and most efficacious ingredients known to nourish from head to toe. These calming, meditative properties transform the bath into a peaceful realm to relax, reflect, and rejuvenate sore muscles, combat dry skin, and melt away stress. This out of this world experience gently engages the senses, tapping into the powers of the universe to take a pause, balance chakra energy and counteract any undesired planetary influences. Life Elements' Mercury Retrograde CBD Bath Bomb retails at $26 dollars and can be purchased on-line at www.lifeelements.com
