PUNE, MAHARASTRA, INDIA, October 8, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Isostearyl Alcohol Market:

Executive Summary

Global Isostearyl Alcohol Market is valued approximately USD 5.1 billion in 2019 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 5.2 % over the forecast period 2020-2027. Isostearyl alcohol is a fatty alcohol or specialty alcohol in its molecular structure which consists of 18 carbon. Isostearyl alcohol with chemical formula $C_{18}H_{38}O$ is branched-chain alcohol. It is also known as isooctadecanol or isooctadecyl alcohol, and in most waxes and oil is insoluble in water and miscible. Isostearyl alcohol is widely used in the manufacture of various cosmetic and personal care products such as lotion, serum, and creams due to its excellent high viscosity property which helps to prevent crystal formation in personal care products. The global market for alcohol isostearyls is driven by increased demand for viscosity boosting and anti-aging agents. Isostearyl alcohol prevents the formation of crystals in personal care products and is expected to fuel the growth of the global isostearyl alcohol market over the forecast period as an ingredient in personal care products as well as cosmetics. Rising demand for personal care products for men is expected to fuel isostearyl alcohol market growth. According to the study of the Coherent Industry Insights, the global market for personal care ingredients was estimated at USD 17 billion in 2015 and is forecast to grow at CAGR by 5.4 per cent in 2015–21. The skincare category accounted for more than 50.0 percent of the global demand for personal care ingredients market in 2015. However, the production of natural ingredients for anti-aging skin care products, increased demand for multifunctional personal care ingredients and the availability of alternatives to isostearyl alcohol are some of the major restrain for the alcohol industry.
